

ABOUT PRODECO and HangMyMedia

PRODECO has been manufacturing products for the commercial printing industry for over 30 years. During that period of time it has sold thousands of its extremely popular 'No-Mark'® Starwheels. Used to prevent ink tracking and marking on all models of lithographic sheet-fed presses, 'No-Mark'® products help shop owners increase print quality without the need for costly machine upgrades.

Changing technology has reduced the need for anti-tracking, and PRODECO has turned its design and manufacturing expertise toward helping digital based printers succeed. Now, with HangMyMedia, the company offers a product line that enables wide format shop owners to increase profit by streamlining their material handling and storage methods.

MADE HERE — MADE WELL...

We do all of our product assembly here in America, right in our own community - always have. And, although it can be difficult, we source as many U.S. made components as possible to include in our products. Support your country, support your community!

HangMyMedia® ROLL HANGERS

Whether you use our stock carts or your own hang rails, our rugged well engineered roll hanger device is designed to provide ease-of-use with a long life in your production operation. In fact, they carry a full 3-year replacement guarantee!

Roll widths from 15" to 64" can be hung by making a simple adjustment within bottom support block. Just remove the end cap and tie off line at a designated length mark. Core spacer can also be adjusted if using a longer line length for shorter roll widths.

IT'S QUICK & SIMPLE! JUST DROP, LIFT, HANG...

DROP. Stand media roll in vertical position and drop support block down the center.

LIFT. When you do, the support block falls through to a horizontal position.

HANG. The Stay-Wide noose at the top lets you lift the roll easily on to the hook, even if it is high above.
